

Equality, Diversity and Community Cohesion Policy

Our school aims to provide a stimulating curriculum in a safe and happy environment where every child can achieve personal success whilst supported by relationships based on respect, trust and partnership.

'The Equality Act 2010 introduces a single equality duty on public bodies which will be extended to include all protected strands - race, disability, sex, age, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity and gender reassignment. This combined equality duty came into effect in April 2011 and has three main elements. In carrying out their functions, public bodies will be required to have a general duty to:

- Eliminate conduct that is prohibited by the Act,*
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it,*
- Foster good relations across all characteristics – between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.'*

Public bodies have a specific duty to:

- Publish information to show they have complied with the general duty*
- Publish evidence of equality analysis*
- Publish details of engagement undertaken with those with an interest in furthering the aims of the general duty and the engagement they undertook in developing their equality objectives*
- Set and publish equality objectives*

This Policy will be reviewed annually by staff and governors to ensure that it is effective in eliminating discrimination, promoting access and participation, equality and good relations between different groups, and that it does not disadvantage particular sections of the community. Any pattern of inequality found as a result of impact assessment will be used to inform future planning and decision making. This Policy is supported by a Single Equality Scheme and Accessibility Plan and links to the School Development Plan and other schools policies, all of which support the general principles of equality. The principles of this Policy should apply to all members of the extended school community, pupils, staff, governors, parents and community members. A copy of this Policy is on the School Website and available from the School Office and parents and staff are 'sign-posted' to it.

Visitors and contractors are responsible for knowing and following our Equality Policy. Responsibility for overseeing equality practices in the school lies with the Headteacher, Mr Andrew Stear and the Chair of Governors.

Responsibilities include:

- Co-ordinating and monitoring work on equality issues
- Dealing with and monitoring reports of harassment (including racist and homophobic incidents)
- Monitoring the progress and attainment of potentially vulnerable groups of pupils (e.g. children and young people in care, children from minority ethnic/language or Traveller communities, disabled pupils etc.)
- Monitoring exclusions

School Context

Milford School is a Community School which aims to serve its community by providing education of the highest quality. The atmosphere is calm and pupils and teachers are respectful towards each other. Teachers and other adults have high expectations of all pupils. There is an expectation that in choosing the school, parents, staff and governors will support this ethos. All members of our community are valued as individuals; be they parents, children, members of staff, or governors.

We recognise that issues such as sexism, ageism, racism, gender reassignment or sexual orientation, negative responses to disabilities and personal prejudices would inhibit the realisation of this ethos and therefore we believe none of these have a place in our school.

We will therefore endeavour to challenge such issues by raising awareness and positively working towards providing equality of opportunity in all teaching and learning situations and through the general ethos of the school. The school is committed to enriching the linguistic experience of all pupils and to celebrating the diversity of British society so that children and adults are tolerant of others and support the core values fundamental to life in modern Britain.

Our Intentions

To clarify our intentions, we believe at Milford School all children:

- Should be mindful of cultural respect for others

- Should be prepared for life in a diverse society

All Staff, Volunteers and Governors:

- We recognise that issues such as sexism, ageism, racism, negative responses to disabilities and personal prejudices etc. are detrimental to individuals and the school community and therefore we believe none of these have a place in our school
- We will endeavour to challenge such issues by raising awareness and positively working towards providing equality of opportunity in all working situations, both paid and voluntary, and through the general ethos of the school

All Adults:

- Have the right to equal chances and equal access to appropriate training, professional development and support
- Should be provided with a working environment that enables them to enjoy their work, fulfil their potential and have the widest possible choice
- Will be regarded as being of equal worth and importance, irrespective of creed, culture, ethnicity, age, gender and social background
- Should not suffer from prejudicial attitude and discriminatory practices and are not subjected to fear or intimidation
